March Madness at PDO

Themes for the month include Dinosaurs, Transportation, Saint Patrick's Day, and Space. Stories, art activities, classroom centers and songs will relate to the themes as classes explore them in any order.

Colors for March are green and yellow.

The weather in March can come in like a lamb and go out like a lion, in one day! The children love their play time outside. Please send appropriate outerwear, including coats, boots and hats. Don't forget to label everything with your child's name.

PDO will not be in session March 26 –30, Spring Break!

From the Denver Public Library website: "I know what you're thinking, 'Do I have to read this book one time?' Well yes, you do. It may not be your favorite now that you have read it fifty million times, but your child still loves it. And the best part is your child is discovering something new or solidifying information every time you read it. Rereading the same book over and over builds the connections in the brain, creates strong memories and helps your child become a lover of books. So next time, let them read that book one more time and try a new book as well. Maybe, the new one will become the favorite."

Click the "Kids: Read-Play-Learn" tab on Denver Public Library's web site: <https://www.denverlibrary.org/> Story time schedules at your local library are posted along with lots of other great information and ideas.

Happy Birthday to Dolphin Everett Schaefer who is now 3 years old! Thank you, Everett, for the deluxe gear building set. Dolphins love to build.

Happy Birthday to Dolphin Jack Frey who is now 3 years old! Thanks, Jack, for the new baby stroller. We appreciate your gift.

Happy 4th Birthday to Crocodile P.J. Zamora! Thanks, P.J., for the Pete the Cat book and the coloring book you gave the Crocodiles in honor of your special day.

This and That

Over heard in the Crocodile room... "When I grow up, I'm going to work on Saturday and do a little sculpture on Sunday." Teacher: "What will you do the rest of the week?" Crocodile: "Hang out".
